Well-Child Back to School Drive

Students Healthy and Ready to Learn!

Equality Health Foundation is hosting its annual Well-Child Back-to-School Drive in Arizona and Texas, partnering with Equality Health Network, to help children in need begin the school year healthy and with the tools they need for academic success. With so many economic uncertainties, low-income families need your help now more than ever.

According to Deloitte, families with children in K-12 are projected to spend $529 per child on back-to-school needs this year, an increase over last year's spending.

For families in low-income neighborhoods, the costs are simply not realistic. Your sponsorship investment helps provide pre-filled backpacks with school supplies and health education information to 2,000 children and families. Your support helps ensure their ability to begin the school year healthy and ready to learn.
